ROOT BEATEN BY GARDNER

Soon Became Apparent that Lowell Man Would Win, and the Fight Only Lasted Twelve Rounds-The Crowd Small.

lasted tweive. The men fought for the light heavyweight class, a purse of $7,000 and a diamond medal. The crowd was not large. The expensive boxes showed very bare. Manager Herman had banked on a $20,000 gate, but he says he broke only a little to the good.

The men got into the ring for the main bout shortly after 4 o'clock. A section of the roof had been taken off and a hot sun beat down upon the resined canvas. Referee McBride called the men together and warned them about the Canadian law and the necessity of avoid-ins hitting in clinches.

together and warned them about the Canadian law and the necessity of avoiding hitting in clinches.

The gong then rang and the men were at it. From the tap of the bell Gardner showed his superiority over Root. 18 forced the flighting, Root leading only when he had to do so. Gardner opened with a wicked left to Root's face and following it up with swings to the body. Gardner had Root weary when the round ended. The Lowell man's most effective blows were the left to the stomach, and Root winced with the pain every time they landed. From the first round to the ninth Gardner kept up the pounding or Root's stomach. The men fought very fairly, but the referee had his hands full separating them in the clinches. With the ninth round came the beginning of Root's undoins.

The tenth round ended with Root much distressed. In the eleventh round a long swing caught Root back of the ear, and he sprawled on the floor, almost rolling out of the ring. He took the count.

Swings on the jaw sent Root down in the eleventh. He took the count, got up and was floored again. He got up and Gardner stepped up to him carefully, simed carefully and sent his right ttrough Root's weak guard to the jaw. Root was weak guard to the jaw. Root was on his knees when the referee counted ten. He was up a second after and put up his guard, but the referee sent him to his corner. The twelfth round lasted two minutes and twenty seconds.

does away with the old method of drinking a barrel of water to get a few ounces of minerals, and the results are better than if the Natural Water was used at the springs.

With a process discovered several years ago by Dr. John M. Echols, all the minerals contained in 10 gallons of the Natural Water are reduced to 8 ounces; so by placing this residue in 10 gallons of water, containing no minerals, you have just what was started with. Nothing lost; nothing gained.

The local physicians prescribe the Concentrated Water in preference to the Natural Water, as results are more satisfactory. This Concentrated Water is not an ordinary Remedy, as it makes cures when hand compounded drugs fail. To convince you that it has all the merit claimed for it by us, we do not have to go out of the State to get testimonials, as we have hundreds of them from the best and most prominent eltizens in Virginia.

Men and women are being cured with it everywhere, because the doctors have given us their hearty endorsation. Over 200 of them in this State alone prescribe it daily with satisfactory results, and we want you to ask your physician's opinion before trying it.

Our remedy will stand any kind of test, as it is not a patent medicine or "quack nostrum." made to sell. It contains no stimulant just to make you feel better while taking it, but it is simply Nature's way for curing the fills of mankind.

Such Chronic Diseases as Indigestion, Rheumatism, Kidney and Bladder Troubles, Scrofula and all Blood Diseases are absolutely cured by our Concentrated Water, and money will be refunded in all cases where results fail to be satisfactory after a thorough trial.

The Second Annual Shoot an Interesting Event.

DR. RICHARDSON CHAPMION

The Shooting Was Very Close and the Exhibition One of Great Interest to Gun Lovers-The Trade Was Well Represented.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

BASIC CITY, VA., July 4.—The sector of annual shoot of the Waynesboro Gun Club, which was held yesterday, was a most pronounced success in every particular. The tournament was ably managed by J. A. Anderson, of Richmond, assisted by E. H. Storr, of Baltmore. The shooting was done according to the Sergeants system, over a Mogan trap, The trap club-house and grounds are located within five blocks of the central part of the town. The house is not very large, though it is of ample size to accommodate the members at their regular shoots, and during tournaments is reinforced by tents and awnings, so that ample shelter is provided to keep off the burning rays of old Sol.

The club is particularly fortunate to possess such grounds. The background is a perfect horizon, making the targets visible in the sky immediately after they leave the trap. During this heated term over the country a delightful breeze was wafted from the Blue Ridge Mountains, which made all the contestants very comfortable.

LADIES ATTEND.

In order that everybody in the town could attend the shoot, no picule parties were announced for this date, and hundreds of young laddes were in attendance and liberally applauded the shooters of good scores.

District Attorney Jerome Likes to Cut a Big Figure.

MR. MARCELLUS HARTLEY

Just from College and the Possessor of Millions, He has a World Before Him-Mr. Thomas to Be Heard from on the Turf.

By JOHN MARTHOL.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) NEW YORK, July 4.-Individuals in-crested in the struggle for political poils or preferment are now busy in the political fields hay-making. District Attorney Jorome, with two mexpired years of his term from January next before hum, holds the chief rake in the hay-field. Elected on the Fusion ticket as an Independent Democrat, his personal interests would be best served by the downfell of Tammany and the ascendency of the Democracy of Greater New York. Prior to the election of Mayor Low, Mr. Jerome filled the public eye with a vision of himself as a justice who personally conducted raids against gambling houses and pool rooms. He became a picturesque figure in the columns of the daily press; and when, during the campaign, he took the stump, he became one of the strongest advocates for Fusion. Since his election Mr. Jerome has kept well to the front. At first Police Commissioner Partridge lagged in the pace, but later he was succeeded by Greene, who is as strenuous as Jerome himself. clitical fields hay-making. District At-

Under Mr. Jerome the office of District Attorey has become an effective political weapon. It can, with the assistance of the Commissioner of Police, or without him, produce effects so weird, so picturesque and dazzling that the general public is startled and amazed. It is evident that it is the intention of those arranging these pictures to prove not only the vigilance of the present administration, but to demonstrate the importance of containing the administration in office. Two things are aimed at—a demonstration of the vigilance of the present administration and the worthlessness of Tammany. The former is accomplished by raids, the latter by attacking Charles Murphy, late Dock Commissioner, and at present Boss of Tammany Hall.

The great fortune, variously estimated many Hall.

The great fortune, variously estimated between six and sixty millions, amassed during the long, busy years of the life of the late Marcellus Hartley have passed into the custody of his grandson, Marcellus Hartley Dodge, Great corporations have given him a seat on their boards of directors, and he finds himself to-day, fresh from college, standing on the threshold of life at the point of eminence atteined by his grandfather. To be sure, knowledge of men and affairs, commercial, social and political experience is not acquired by inheritance. I understand, however, that Mr. Dodge possesses natural gifts which will stand him in good stead. The future is before him. His record must be of his own making.

Another man who is rapidly becoming

Another man who is rapidly becoming ar important social and commercial factor is Henry C. Siegel. He came to this city and took his place among the merchants. He has won for himself a position. It makes little difference how a man may excel in another city, the question here is to what eminence he shall attain in this. Mr. Siegel is not only a prince among merchants, but a philanthropist, who smoothes the road for others less talented than he—less able to attain success. The city of New York is richer and better for the existence in its midst of Henry Siegel.

To deserve success is better than to attain it by mere chance. Mr. Thomas is misrepresented by the press when he is reported to be ready to sell his racing stable simply because a few horses did not win fat purses. He is too good a sportsman for that. True, he was disappointed in the performances of Hermis and Yardarm, but Pulsus won a gallant victory. The sensation of losing, like the snsation of winning, makes a true sportsman put forward his colors, He, as well as his string, show pluck and endurance. Mr. Thomas is a thorough sportsman, and he has no intention of abandoning the race horse or the race course. His stable race horse or the race course. His stable next year will be heard from.

Ex-Governor Timothy L. Woodruff, who at one time had the largest assortment of flaring fancy vests of any man in the country, and made it a point to wear at least three of them during the day, has given up that decorative style of apparel in favor of more subdued colors. The reason assigned for it is that "Tim," as his friends call him, is endeavoring to be one of the four delegates at large from the State to the next National Republican Convention. Platt, Depew, Roosevelt and Odell were the delegates in 1000. Roosevelt, of course, will be out this time and Woodruff wants his place. But that is not all "Tim' has in view. Mr. Depew's seat in the Senate is the main object of his ambition. Woodruff has grown very rich making, some kind of a beer. The colored vests were said to be an advertisement for it. Woodruff in the Senate would be amusing.

Nicholas Murray Butler, the president of Columbia University, in a letter in college endowments, has let out the secret of the Roosevelt administration which thus far han been pretty well kept. It is of exceeding interest to Republican Senators and Representatives all over the country, who find it impossible to secure positions for their constituents in the public service. Mr. Butler writes: "When the new Bureau of Commerce was being organized, letters were written to all the universities asking for lists of names of students or graduates in the study of political science who could take the civil service examination to make the evil service examination to make the evil service examination to make the evil service examination to make the civil service examination to make the civil service examination to make the civil service examination to office any man, if he can help it, who is not a graduate of some college, and in the event of the re-election it will probably become one of the rules of his new administration.

"Wall Street will have to put up its the civil service examination to make them eligible for appointment in that department." The President, it is well known, will not appoint to office any man, if he can help it, who is not a graduate of some college, and in the event of his re-election it will probably become one of the rules of his new administration.

"Wall Street will have to put up its share of the money to defray the expenses of the expenses of the money to defray the expenses of the mon on the hope of the city. One of the intimates of the new Tammany chieftain, Charles F. Murphy, tells me that nothing will be left undone to reunite the Democratic party in this city so as to make the State far more than doubtful fighting ground for the Republicans next year. To this end the Tammany nomination for Mayor will go to some eminent Democrat who will be certain to carry the independent vote and thereby make Mr. Low a political back number, unless Mr. Rooseveit can find a place for him either at home or abroad. Mr. Murphy feels that with the city in the control of the Democracy and Judge Parker as the candidate of the party next year, New York would be shifted to the Democratic column of States.

Coogan, the old Bowery furniture man on the installment plan, carried Dick Croker's handbag during many moons in the hope that the 'Squire of Wastage would pick him out as Tammany's candidate for Mayor. Dick, for some reach, did not do it, and now Coogan is going to Newport. He has bought a cottage there and is going into society on his favorite installment plan, it is supposed. Well, that is how they all get there.

KING AND QUEEN POLITICS

The Committee Decide to Allow Free Fight Among Candidates.

KING AND QUEEN COURTHOUSE. VA., July 4.—The Democratic Committee met here Thursday and decided not to make nominations for county offices, and there will be a free fight. Mr. J. R. F. Vaughan is the only candidate who has offered up to this time for the treasurership. Mr. W. S. Courtney, the present incumbent, is a candidate for commisincument, is a candidate for commis-cioner of the revenue, and there is strong probability that Mr. J. D. Hutchinson will oppose him. Mr. J. C. Eubank has no opposition for his position of sheriff. Mr. Clayrett B. Jones will be re-plected. Mr. Claggett B. Jones will Commonwealth's attorney without oppo-

Judge Fleet was here on the 27th ulto, for the purpose of giving the officers an oportunity to renew their bonds. They have all renewed their bonds except the treasurer. Mr. C. W. Porter, who has filled that position ever since 1879, declines to be a candidate for re-election, and says it will not pay him to qualify for six months, and so there has been no qualification so far for that place from now until January 1st.
